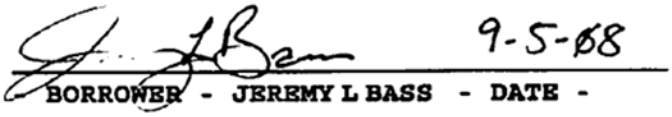
Forensic Typography for Case No. CV35221875

Sample #1
From Exhibit AD page 2

Sample #2
From Exhibit AD page 6

Sample #3
From Exhibit AD page 14

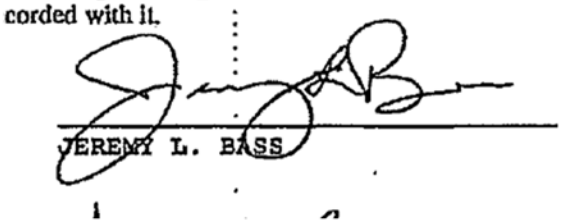


Sample #4
From Exhibit AD page 16

Sample #5
From Exhibit AD page 18

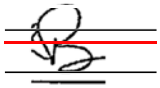
Sample #6
From Exhibit AD page 20

Signature in Question
From Defendant's Exhibit A page 5



'B' samples from known & witnessed source

'B' from unknown source



It is easy to see that the normalcies of the B's upper bowl is always much smaller than the lower bowl. It's also very noticeable that the upper bowl is thin and forward leaning. The lower bowl is also always closed and completed and never continued to the `a`.

In stark contrast, the unknown `B` have an upper bowl that is larger than the lower bowl dropping down well past the mean line below the x-height. The lower bowl doesn't cross the stem on its sweep and connects with what appears to be an `s` with no hint of an `a`.

Analysis Conclusion

It is in my expert opinion that the signature in question is not of the same hand. There are many telltales that give it away, the `B` and missing `a` of the last name is the easiest to show. It is assumed that Mr. Bass is able to spell his last name.