How to Request a Complete Loss Mitigation Review

Gather The Information We Need To Help You

For your convenience, Carrington has enclosed the Mortgage Assistance Application (MAA), IRS Form 4506C, and a list of required financial information. In addition, we also enclosed a checklist of applicable documentation needed if you are interested in the Short Sale / DIL process. In order to determine your eligibility for all loss mitigation options, Carrington must receive a complete package of documents to one of the departments listed below. Please be sure to include your account number on all applicable pages for reference and tracking purposes.

Please visit <http://www.carringtonmortgage.com> and click on "Mortgage Assistance" in the Help Center at the top of the page for instructions and tips for submitting a complete Loss Mitigation application.

Submit Your Documents

If you are interested in retaining your property, please send your documents to our Loss Mitigation Department:

- (Email): MortgageAssistance@carringtonms.com

If you are not interested in retaining your property, please send your documents to our Short Sale Department:

If you are not eligible for mortgage assistance or if you do not want to stay in your home or keep your rental property, we will work with you to explore other options available to you or ease your transition to a new home, if applicable.

Additional Information About the Process

- Once we receive your complete loss mitigation application, we will notify you of our decision, in writing, within 30 calendar days of receipt.
- You should consider contacting servicers associated with other applicable mortgage loans secured by the same property to discuss available loss mitigation options.
- If you are eligible for a loss mitigation workout option and Carrington presents you with a written offer, you must accept the offer by the date referenced in written offer notice; otherwise, we will consider you to have not accepted the offer and consider the offer to have expired.

Additional Important Information

We do think it is important to remind you that all monthly payments that were suspended during the forbearance period and not due in accordance with the original terms of your mortgage are not forgiven and you will have to repay those payments. We understand that this can be a significant burden, which is why we want to work with you and evaluate you for potential loss mitigation options that will help you repay those amounts over time. If your loan is delinquent after the forbearance period expires, we will resume certain collection activities, the assessment of late fees, and standard credit reporting practices. You may also incur additional costs while delinquent.
