Our approach to the practice of law is simple: First, we understand our clients' businesses and industries, which enables us to recognize problem issues before they occur, turn challenges into opportunities and design legal solutions which are both practical and cost-effective.

Second, we deliver quality legal services. Our attorneys are leaders in their fields and enjoy the respect of their colleagues and judges in the courts throughout the State of New York. This respect is earned, in part, by the quality of the services we provide.

Third, we understand "time is money" for our clients and we work hard to achieve our clients' legal goals as quickly as possible. We pride ourselves, however, on delivering work of the highest quality.

And fourth, we staff our matters with attorneys who understand how to litigate. The timely and successful conclusion of a foreclosure, replevin or other creditors' rights proceeding in New York today requires the knowledge and skill of a litigator. Rowlands, LeBrou & Griesmer's creditors' rights attorneys are as experienced and comfortable in the courtroom as they are in an office or at a conference room table.
